

The University of Bonn is an international research university that offers a wide range of degree programs. With 200 years' worth of history, some 38,000 students, over 6,000 employees, and an excellent domestic and international reputation, the University of Bonn is among Germany's leading universities.

The Faculty of Arts of the University of Bonn is seeking to fill the position of a

W 2-Professorship for History and Theory of Architecture

at the Department of Art History at the earliest opportunity.

We are looking for an internationally active personality with broad competences in the history and theory of architecture in Europe since the Middle Ages as well as the closely related international/global references up to the modern age. Participation in teaching from the Middle Ages to the present is expected. In research, focal points in Europe with regional and international references are desired.

Intensive involvement in the BA and MA programmes (Art History; Museum Studies) and those in cooperation, in administrative and committee work, as well as initiative and participation in third-party funding and research projects and in the digitalisation strategies of the Faculty of Arts are expected.

Application requirements are a relevant PhD and habilitation or habilitation-equivalent achievements in the field of art history, preferably in one of the above-mentioned focal points, as well as teaching practice.

Prerequisites for employment are in accordance to Section 36 Higher Education Act NRW.

The University of Bonn is committed to diversity and equal opportunity. It is certified as a family-friendly university and has a dual career service. It aims to increase the proportion of women in areas where women are under-represented and to facilitate their careers. The University of Bonn, therefore, strongly encourages women with relevant qualifications to apply. Applications will be dealt with in accordance with the Landesgleichstellungsgesetz (State Equality Act). Applications from suitable individuals with certified serious disability and those of equal status are particularly welcome.

Please apply via our online portal: <https://berufungsportal.uni-bonn.de>. The deadline for applications is May 31, 2022.